

Kentucky Refugee Ministries (KRM), Lexington Legal Caseworker (full-time)

The Immigration Legal Services team at KRM Lexington is currently comprised of two full-time attorneys and a Legal Caseworker. The Legal Caseworker position provides support to both the Immigration Legal Services team and the agency as a whole.

The Immigration Legal Services team handles a variety of cases including, but not limited to: family-based immigrant visa petitions, consular processing, citizenship, refugee-based adjustment of status, representation in removal proceedings, affirmative and defensive asylum applications, Special Immigrant Juvenile Status applications, U visas, and other humanitarian immigration legal matters.

KRM is one of only three agencies in the Commonwealth of Kentucky that provides low-cost immigration legal services to refugees and immigrants. As such the attorneys have high caseloads. The position of Legal Caseworker performs administrative work and other legal work traditionally done by legal assistants and paralegals. However, the Legal Caseworker position is also designed to incorporate the overall mission of KRM to assist refugees and immigrants in their adjustment to life in the U.S. The Immigration Legal Services team is striving to reach out to underrepresented immigrant groups in the U.S. The Legal Caseworker position will include community outreach to some of these groups.

The Legal Caseworker will be responsible for assisting with clerical/administrative tasks including the maintenance of client files, assisting in improving the team's electronic filing and case management system, meeting with Immigration Legal Services clients to follow up case work, maintaining and updating several spreadsheets tracking legal case work, billing, and other administrative duties.

Agency Profile

KRM, which began in Louisville in 1990, is a local affiliate of the national network of non-profit agencies authorized to provide resettlement services to refugees admitted to the United States through the U.S. State Department's Refugee Admissions Program. KRM opened the Lexington sub-office in 1999. Since 1990, KRM has served thousands of refugees in various Kentucky communities. KRM serves all clients without regard to race, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender, or gender identity.

The Immigration Legal Services team is an important component of the overall agency services, which also include reception services for newly-arriving refugee clients (housing setup, airport arrivals), ensuring access to medical care and applicable public benefits for new arrivals, comprehensive case management, employment services, educational and cultural orientation programming, youth services, health education, and other programs. KRM also offers classes for refugees and immigrants preparing to apply for U.S. citizenship.
