- Participate in KRM staff development, meetings, and events

Agency Profile

Founded in 1990 as a nonprofit agency, KRM is a local affiliate of the national network of agencies authorized to provide resettlement services to refugees admitted to the United States through the federal U.S. Refugee Admissions Program. KRM Lexington, a sub-office of the main Louisville office, opened in 1998 and serves several hundred new refugee and humanitarian parolee clients per year, in addition to serving previously-arrived clients for up to five years in some cases. Services include case management, English language classes, employment readiness support, youth programming, a survivors of torture recovery program, and more. In addition, KRM provides a number of programs - including the immigration legal services described in this document - to many other immigrants in addition to refugees. With clients and staff from a diverse array of backgrounds, KRM does not conduct any religious activities or messaging. We proudly serve all clients regardless of religion, race, ethnicity, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, or gender identity.
